Course Description

The Basic and Advanced Ultrasound courses will be instructed by faculty from The Ohio State University, Department of Veterinary Clinical Sciences. Featured lecturers are:

Dr. William Tod Drost
Dr. Rita Echandi
Dr. Valerie Samii
Dr. Lisa Zekas

The Basic course is designed for the individual with little to no experience with diagnostic ultrasound. The Advanced course is not intended to discourage those without practical experience. It is intended to serve as a preview of coming attractions for those who are not yet performing studies. A simplified review of ultrasound physics and technology is provided. Consideration is given to the choices in purchasing equipment and relating the various components to clinical tasks. Efficiency of examinations and medical records are emphasized.
